GENERAL FEEDBACK	You have produced a well-styled five-page website with a consistent purple visual identity, shared external stylesheet, effective Grid and Flexbox layouts, responsive breakpoints and accessible interaction states. The hero and Services gallery demonstrate appropriate use of responsive image sources. However, the site is relatively image-light for a video production business. The About page repeats the logo rather than showcasing the people or work behind the business, and the Contact and Enquiry pages contain little substantive imagery. Add relevant portfolio or team visuals across more of the site. Your README is detailed, but it claims that two supporting documents are present under `docs/` when they are missing from the submitted ZIP. Include those documents or correct the README, and provide the required standalone `CHANGELOG.md` rather than relying only on the README section. Ensure all documentation accurately reflects the files submitted.
